You and I Crystal Club.

The You and I Crystal club was entertained at their home in Burlington Thanksgiving eve. The guests assembled at 4 in the afternoon, and at 5 sat down to a table which was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, fruits and ribbons, while at each end an immense turkey held sway. A flashlight photo of the guests was taken. During the dinner the toast "Our Host and Hostess" was responded to by Mr. A. W. Gallagher in a very able manner, while the "You and I Crystal club" was given by Mr. G. A. Strickland in a merry and witty way.

For the game of high five which followed, the prizes were awarded to Mrs. A. W. Gallagher and Mr. Strickland. Mr. J. Ford and Mr. Butler. The tables were sketches of the turkey, while the counters were tiny plum puddings. Then fishing, games, music, singing and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour. Light refreshments were served throughout the evening. Mr. L. Harvey acted as master of ceremonies, and after a most enjoyable evening the club adjourned to meet in two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ford.

OGDEN SOCIETY.

(Special Correspondence.)

Ogden, Dec. 2.—One of the leading social events of the week was the first annual banquet of the Columbia club Monday evening. Only the members of the club and the newspaper men were present and the occasion was one of the most enjoyable of the season. Long before the time set for the festivities to begin the club rooms were thronged and a jollier lot of fellows never congregated in Ogden. The tables were arranged in the shape of a letter, dainty menu cards in red, white and blue being placed at each plate. About sixty were at the board. One of the most delicious of spreads was served.

President-elect Wattis was master of ceremonies and was seated at the head of the table with Vice President Burton on the left, retiring President Farrell on the right. Other officers with newspaper men and other guests occupied conspicuous positions near the head. When the banquet was well under way Mr. Hasset of the entertainment committee introduced the master of ceremonies, who, after a few remarks, introduced the retiring president, D. J. Farrell. Mr. Farrell made a rousing speech full of good cheer for the club.

Fred Hart gave a toast to Columbia that brought the members to their feet with cheers.

W. H. Wedell, in responding to "The Ladies" made a pleasant discourse about the sentiment, "Absent, but not Forgotten."

There was no set programme and an entire absence of formality heightened the enjoyment. A pleasing incident was the introduction of W. J. Shealy who was inveigled by a ruse from the Weber club and fairly thrust into a seat at the banquet board where he promptly became "one of the boys" and later in the evening made a most felicitous speech.

The press was ably represented amongst the toasters by A. E. Hayes and C. S. Pulver, C. R. Hollingsworth spoke of "Columbia's Heroes" naming the nine members of the victorious ball team. H. R. MacMillan made a speech humorous at first, but closing with a fine tribute to Ogden and the Columbia club. Vice President Burton spoke briefly, his words being full of good cheer for the future of the club and of commendation for its past work.

Others who made brief addresses were T. R. O. Connolly, J. L. Pierce, "Brig" Holliday, and Fred Smith.

Professor Murray entertained the gathering with some "chronological" readings from the craniums of prominent members. There were some musical exercises in which Messrs. Saunders, Grant and Robinson took part and about 12:30 the banqueters arose after one of the most enjoyable events in the club annals. The affair was given by the outgoing and incoming officers complimentary to other members.

A fine display of decorative china work is soon to be on exhibition at the studio of Mrs. J. L. Herrick and Mrs. D. Harner in the Loan & Trust building. The ladies have all the facilities for doing the work, a kiln being located in one of the rooms. Among the notable pieces of work by Mrs. Herrick is a plaque ornamented with a study of grapes, an exquisite translucent effect being imparted to the fruit. There are also a handsome jardiner done in roses, chocolate sets, a beautiful salad set in the ferns and numerous other pieces. The studio will be open to the public Dec. 5 and 6 from 2 to 3 p. m.

Sunday evening Miss Ellen Ragan and William V. Davis were married by Father P. M. Cushman at the residence of the bride and in the presence of the family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Gleason Andrews have removed from Salt Lake and will make their future home in Ogden.

Hugh Wood was down from Spencer, Ida., again this week.

Willis Beardsley was visiting in the city a few days the fore part of the week.

Joe Scowcroft is in New York on business.

Mrs. Seese, mother of Assistant Pullman Agent Seese, is visiting her son during the holidays.

Mrs. W. H. King was visiting Mrs. George M. Hanson during the week.

H. C. Baker is home again from Chicago to spend the holidays.

Mrs. F. W. Metcalf is visiting at Woods Cross.

The third ward is preparing for a grand concert to be given in the Grand Opera house Dec. 20 for the purpose of raising money to liquidate the debt on the ward buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McKinney have gone to California for an extended visit.

Mrs. Dan Gamble is visiting in Ogden from Piedmont.

Knights Entertain.

The members of Ogden lodge No. 2, Knights of Pythias gave an elaborate entertainment to their friends last Monday evening. They have recently added a fine dancing hall to their rooms and are now equipped to entertain in royal style as the ball of Monday last proves. After the dance refreshments were served.

A Brilliant Affair.

The annual ball of the International Association of Machinists at Christensen's Dancing academy Wednesday evening last, was one of the most brilliant affairs of its kind. For weeks the machinists have been working hard to make this ball the pinnacle of success and the result was most gratifying. An immense crowd was present. The hall was beautifully decorated one design being composed of over $1,000 worth of tools used by the craft. The scene was a most brilliant one. Probably 1,000 people witnessed the prize cake walk which was won by J. C. Henderson and Miss Kitty Brown, second honors being awarded to Pearl Casey and Miss Ella O'Hornett.

PROVO SOCIETY.

(Special Correspondence.)

Provo, Dec. 2.—Isaac Cummings, the well known stockman of Wasatch, enjoyed Thanksgiving with friends in Provo.

W. H. Monahan spent Thanksgiving day with his family in Provo.

Miss Alma Armstrong, a teacher of Payson, spent Thanksgiving and the remainder of the week with her aunt, Mrs. Beck of Provo.

Deborah lodge No. 8, D. of R., gave a very pleasant social and card party in the L. O. O. F. hall Monday evening. The chief amusement was progressive high-five, seventeen tables being arranged. The winners were: First lady, Miss Nora Redfield; first gentleman, George Whelan; second lady,
